

Abstract

This work will focus on the possibilities of data mining in film analysis and its use in predicting ratings on ČSFD movie database, based on film annotations and other attributes of the film. The main goal is to determine whether it is possible to predict user ratings of new movies and identify the attributes that affect the most the ratings on Movie Database, as well as other factors such as. revenues and attendance.