

Abstract

The author's aim is to describe the history of the Congregation of Jesus, also known as 'English Ladies' (Virgins), in Czechoslovakia, especially on the territory of today's Czech Republic. Emphasis will be placed on the work and life of the congregation in the 20th century. Part of the work will be personal memories of selected sisters reflecting the so-called real socialism.