Title: LAWBREAKING OF COPYRIGHT AND ITS ETHICAL JUDGEMENT

Annotation

The theme this work are problems of intellectual property in the area of copyright. Primary questions were focused on retrieval of that behavior, which is lawbreaking of copyright and ethical judgment of that acts. Access to work issued from definition terms and effort to find arguments for copyright and against him. Concurrence of arguments should be resolved. However it showed that this progression gives out solution of the theme from the other side. This access does not search transgression against law, but on the contrary moral acceptable way look to objective. Solution is found from the other side. His basic result is statement that moral acceptable behavior in the area of copyright (without the authors consent) is such act, where are interconnected several conditions. These are social expediency of act, which means pickling with copyright first for the development of understanding, science, culture or art. Thereby thinks first individual character of pickling with copyright, where economic losses for owner of copyright are minimal. After that it is element of pickling with copyright only in necessary rate. At the close of work is even shortly reviewed valid Czech copyright law.

Keywords: copyright, intellectual property, authorship, lawbreaking, ethical judgment.
