

Summary

This bachelor's thesis (Selected operational aspects of ZDVOP, Přemysl Pitter House for Children) presents the operating activity of a facility for children in need and its role in the socio-legal protection of children. It particularly focuses on the practical implications of the 2012 amendment to the law on the sociolegal protection of children. This work discusses the operation and principles of the crisis residential facility Přemysl Pitter House for Children, which has been providing assistance to children at risk for sixteen years and is part of the nonprofit organisation The House of Three Wishes. The final chapter compares selected observed characteristics of the operation of the Přemysl Pitter House for Children in 2008-2010 and in 2013-2018.
