

Title

Crimes and their punishment under the current canon law in light of the criminal law of the Czech Republic

Abstract

In my Bachelor thesis Crimes and their punishment under the current canon law in light of the criminal law of the Czech Republic i would like to deal first with brief development of the canon law with emphasis on criminal law, further with a definition of basic terms of the canon and secular criminal law and their mutual brief comparison, and in the end with the comparison of individual provisions of the Code of the canon law and the Criminal Code which deals with crimes of clerics against the Sixth Commandment of Decalogue with minor under eighteen age.
