

Summary

LIGOCKÁ, Gabriela. Conditions for the Establishment and Functioning of the Social Prevention Service - The Asylum House. Bachelor thesis. Prague: Charles University, Evangelical Theological Faculty, 2018.

This theoretical bachelor thesis deals with homeless people in the context of residential social protection services. The bachelor thesis is divided into four chapters which, in its entirety, provide a concrete legal description of the conditions and procedure for the establishment and functioning of the asylum house. The internal methodological regulations of the organization Naděje's Asylum house for Women in Prague are studied and presented. The bachelor thesis brings a holistic view of the asylum house from the processing of its registration as a social service, after the practical examination of the quality of provided social prevention services. At the same time, it presents the possibilities of system innovation of this multi-level homeless living model in the Czech Republic.
