

Abstrakt (anglicky)

Thesis Regional function of the local basic libraries in the District of Tachov is pursued on the effectivity and delivery of public library services in nowadays in professional or nonprofessional municipalities public libraries. The main object is analyzed the fact, how and what kind of quality received local basic library services of regional library function in the District of Tachov. This work will be built on summarized theoretic part, includes another thesis about regional library function. Then, basic on practical research and interviews with workers in chosen local library of the Tachov district, will be shown, how the local library stands today with the services of regional library function. To the practical research have been chosen quality research method.

Klíčová slova (anglicky)

Regional system of the libraries, regional library function, municipalities library, local library, library services, library collaboration, rural library, regional libraries