

Summary

Pastoral care of people with intellectual disability is a quite new discipline in czech discourse. The aim of this bachelor work is to introduce, how pastoral care of people with intellectual disability looks like and how it function. Resource of the pastoral care is in gospel. It pursues growth of human being in level of bio-psycho-socio-spiritual, and so on.

The „Theology of disability“ is resource for pastoral care too. „Theology of disability“ tries about inclusion of people with intellectual disability and disability in general. Tries about inclusion into society and community. That all through Christian’s values and love.

Techniques of pastoral care are in general to sing a songs, some predicitions, to read biblical texts, prayers and support in growth of human being and to deal with difficult life circumstances.

Pastoral care of people with intellectual disability provides the same fundamental human rights, which have people without disabilities too. With emphesizing Christianity and anthroposophy. It provides for them to meet with themselves, and to gain their dreams, wishes, needs and face to their anxiety and fears too. That all through different techniques.
