The solution of hyperbolic equations can be discontinuous hence we solve them numerically with the full space-time discontinuous Galerkin method. This method is based on a piecewise polynomial discontinuous aproximation on the tessellation. In case when a discontinuity of the solution moves we have to modify a discretization. This thesis proposes and implements such scheme. Two small examples are included at the end