

Abstract

The content of this bachelor thesis is the work of Miguel de Cervantes and its acceptance in Czech castle libraries. Included is also the author's biography as well as brief description of his books that were the most well known in Czech lands. The last part describes mainly individual prints and their possible modifications in translation. The places we can find the author's work in larger quantities are castle libraries in Hradec nad Moravicí, Klášter nad Ohří, Strážnice or Michovo Hradiště. The thesis also includes cultural context.
