

ANGLICKÁ ANOTACE

This work brings a new light to the message of preexilic prophecy in North Israel. The term "judgement" is a standard way of speaking about prophetic speech. The task of this study is an investigation of this term throughout the biblical message and modern scholarship. The study is concentrated in two prophetic books of Amos and Hosea by using every interpretative method – by historical, literary and theological approach. One of the most hotly discussed issues is the assessment of prophetic message about the future. Is possible to find in this message of doom a hope? And what is the image of God from this message?

judgement

doom

hope

preexilic prophecy

image of God