Bc thesis SPORT AND ITS PLACE IN CHRISTIAN LIFE wants to unveil a man as the whole image of the God.

We have been living with the hope of salvation and we will be saved as the whole – our body, soul and spirit. Spiritual dimension of the body is based on the faith of its resurrection. The body needs the same care, attention, creativity and gratitude to the Creator as the soul and spirit do. The sport is one of the way to the care of the body.

This thesis wants not only critically evaluate the place of the sport and activity of the body in Christian life but also to find its blind alleyways and risks. It also deals with the question how significant the integration of regular sport activities into the curriculum of theological faculties can be in addition to the intellectual and spiritual formation.
