

Abstract

The aim of the master thesis The Past, Present and Future of Poetry Slam is to describe the history and origin of this performative genre and characterize its poetics, describe the course and rules of competitions and introduce the Czech slam scene. In the practical part, the aim is to prove the didactic potential of poetry slam as a motivation for self-creation of poetry among teenagers. The research will be conducted in the form of interviews with selected respondents.