Title: The assisted reproduction from the aspect of ecclesiastic theory and present day experience

Thesis advisor: PhDr. Libor Ovečka, ThD.

PRAGUE 2008

Annotation: The aim of this work is to find theological, psychological and moral contexts of the problems of artificial insemination from the viewpoint of patente. First is there written about infertility, methods of assisted reproduction and its history. Then is talked about Church documents, which contain many valid and logical statements, that support opinion why the assisted reproduction is unacceptable in all aspects (unfilling sexual connection from generative aspect of married couple, conception of new life). Also there is spoken about unethical treatment of embryos that parents leave at hospitals. Getting opinions from mothers and doctors about artificial insemination is very difficult. Does not exist some prospects about it.
