

Abstract

In my practical bachelor's thesis, I use documentary photography to show the current Prague techno scene with an emphasis on the experience of the participants, who can perceive the space as their safe space. The theoretical part reflects security procedures, community and techno as a musical genre. Then continues to describe documentary photography and the work of two music photographers who focus on techno.