

This essay is about transsexualism. You can read about history of this word and its definition. There is part about diagnosis, treatment and about work with people, who have problems with their gender identification. You can learn about other words, which related with transsexualism and you can get know something about medical care or about facts, which related to this theme. There are parts about social, juridical and spiritual views, which can be very interesting. The important part is about human relations. There is part about family, friends or about relations in institutions (school, employment). Another part attends to relationship between partners. One of these partners has problem with transsexualism. The last part of this essay is based on two conversations, which were done with people, who have problem with their gender identification. You can get know about their opinions of relationship between partners.