

This diploma thesis is concerned to the iconicity or relative "motivation" of the kiship terminology and the structure of its networks in different systems in the world. The aim of the thesis is not the description of cultural connection even though these aspects can base the "motivation" connections between different vertices of the terminology network of kiship relations of the respective language.