

This thesis „General concept of suicide concerning individuals in the crisis moments is describing the word suicide properly, also meaning of self damaging and crisis situation are exemplified here. Historical meaning of suicide supported by unsolved questions of science has changed through the centuries. But the essential aspect of whole problematic is a statistical analysis.

The main part of thesis is full of interview with handicapped or arrested people .At the end you can find the conclusion of inner feelings or different approaches of mentioned individuals .