Giovanni Pietro Tencalla -The Church of St Anne and St James Major in Stara Voda in Libava

This diploma thesis deals with the construction development of the Church of St Anne and St James Major in Stara Voda in Libava from the original project made by G. P. Tencalla to the present time. This church was built on the oldest pilgrimage place of St Anne in Bohemia under the episcopal rule of Charles II. of Liechtenstein-Castelcorn, Bishop of Olomouc.

It was permanently damaged during the second post-war period in the 20th century. The cause of this situation was the establishment of the Military Training Space in Libava. The church started to dilapidate and the pilgrimages were stopped. There was the damage on purpose to this church and its existence was even threatened. The effort of the public authorities to destroy it or to save it on the contrary is described in detail.

The last chapters of the diploma thesis describe the restoration of the church after 1989 and include thoughts of its future use and the way of it is repaired.
