

The artistic legacy of Gabriel Max left a very significant print not just in the Czech fine art of the last quarter of the 19th century but also in the Czech contemporary art critics. On the bases of the compiled catalogue of the texts about Gabriel Max and his paintings this work tries to recover the relationship between the artist and his native town.