

Bachelor thesis „CZECH PRESS PHOTO 1995 - 2005: Picture content analysis of winning photographs in General News and Spot News categories“ deals with the content of the photographs, which have won first eleven yearly awards of the photographic contest Czech Press Photo in the categories General News and Spot News. The aim of this work is to analyse, which events were so important that they gave rise to the winning photographs and which topics frequently appeared in the pictures.

The second monitored aspect is the photography's location of origin and probation or refutation of the hypothesis, whether the local events provide enough visually appealing events or whether the photographers have to seek the photographic topics abroad.
