

Anglická anotace

"Spiritual care for persons with mental disorders"

The aim of bachelor thesis is concerned about the spiritual needs of man in health and disease. Attention is paid to their place in the life values, with particular emphasis on the psychological state of the disease. The author outlines the basic principles of the pastoral care for selected types of the most common mental disorders, the possibility of satisfying the spiritual needs in psychiatric facilities and activities of the layman in pastoral care.

Key words: spiritual needs, mental disorders, psychiatric facilities, basic principles of the pastoral care, layman in pastoral care