

ANNOTATION

Development of the situation of religion teaching and preparation for sacraments
in Příbram in 1991–2006

The thesis deals with the development of Příbram town from the earliest beginnings up to present times, particularly the specific conditions given by natural wealth and secular tradition of the general conditions of its population culture. The author takes notes in particular of the religious aspect of the city in the second part (the ancient seat of the Prague archbishops, famous place of pilgrimage, one of the oldest religious as well as vocational education centres), its manifestations in time up to the present, especially with an emphasis on the teaching of religion in modern after-revolution times. Concluding part of the thesis includes the calculation of trends in this area and an outline of possible solutions to the current less favourable situation.

Key words: Příbram – development – education – teaching - religion