Abstrakt anglicky

The basis for the work is project about personalities from field of information and communication technologies. Its main task is to describe the resources available in electronical form. The project is stored as an attachment on the CD and the Moodle system on College of Information Studies in Prag. The goal of the bachelor thesis, is to describe resources used in description of most important people in ICT society.