

This thesis describes formation process of digitizing workplace for archival documents from project formulation through general work conditions analysis up to financial, personal and technical questions solution. At the conclusion are described practical guidelines and work flow for digitizing of archival documents.