

Anotation

Subject title: Spiritual burnout

Author: Lukáš Janda

Supervisor: PhDr. Ing. Marie Lhotová, Ph.D

The disertation focuses on burnout syndrome. The author searches to expalain theoretical reasons for burnout syndrome, to identify its symptoms and ultimately outline treatment and prevention. This issue is described in two parts: The first part discusses the topic in general, the second part focusses on its manifestations in priests, nuns and monks.

The author's assumptions and conclusion in the research outline predispositions of the syndrome. The priests taking part in the study are active in Prague county and the nuns work in the Karla Boromejského hospital.
