

The diploma thesis "Field care services. Community planning of Central Bohemian Region "deals with specific problems of social services. It provides general overview of financing, planning, implementation and control of field social services, special view on home care service. It treats application of Act No. 108/2006 Coll. on social services in practice, the functioning of control mechanisms and the development of this form of social care.