

Annotation

Burn-out Syndrome in Pastoral Work

Key terms: burn-out syndrome, pastoral work, hospice, medical officer, male nurse

The Bachelor dissertation the name of which is Burn-out Syndrome in Pastoral Work searches and describes the burn-out syndrome which can be met in pastoral work.

The theoretical part describes the burn-out syndrome, the causes of its occurrence, where it occurs, how it is shown and what kind of consequences it has. Further on it describes pastoral work and considers why the burn-out syndrome develops just with the pastoral worker. The dissertation shows at the same time what to do to eliminate the burn-out syndrome.

The author's part includes the specific research. Using the evaluated questionnaires the grade of disposition to the burn-out syndrome has been found out at the medical officers and male nurses who work in the hospice named Anežka Česká in the town of Červený Kostelec.