

Abstract

Prevention of suicide as a new task of Christian educators

In my bachelor thesis I will deal with the phenomenon of suicide, its prevention and the importance of Christian education in it. I will identify the term of a Christian educator and suicide itself. I will describe the theory of self-destructive behaviour according to the medical (psychiatric), sociological and psychological aspects. I will also describe the various types and subtypes of suicide and their various causes. Of course, I will focus on the relationship of Christianity to suicide. Another chapter will discuss the prevention of suicidal action, prevention programs and targeted intervention. At the end of my work I will try to summarize the scientific knowledge and my own opinions on this difficult and basically not clearly definable issues.