

Abstract

The aim of this thesis is to analyze the references of Yugoslavia (the area of erstwhile Yugoslavian Kingdom) in selected Czech periodical literature of the Protectorate of Bohemia and Moravia (Národní politika, České slovo a Venkov) in years 1941-1943. The emphasis is on political, economical and social events, about which the protectorate press informed. At the same time, the differences between approaches of these periodicals to such topics and events are compared.
