

Abstract (in English):

The main aim of this bachelor thesis is to find out whether the subject of debt counselling is taught at tertiary educational institution social-oriented. The main reason for this sanctify work lies in big important of debt issues in current society. It is necessary to deal with this issue in the area of social activities in the form of debt counselling. This bachelor thesis consists of two parts.

The theoretical part deals with debt issues, debt counselling and education and training in social activities. Further more this theoretical part is based on the recherche and studying of scientific and specializes literary.

The practical part is trying to find with the help of three methods whether colleges and higher secondary schools offer knowledge and skills of debt counselling and debt issues. This survey was excreted at selected social – oriented schools – higher secondary schools and bachelor program of colleges located in Prague. The result of practical part is the summary of all data gather during the survey process.