

The aim of my work is to find which development has undergone perception of Israel in the post-war theologians CCE and whether this development is somehow reflected in official statements of the Church herself.