

Abstract

Bachelor thesis deals with the financial evaluation of the effectiveness of the investment in RoyalGrill restaurant. The work is divided into theoretical and practical part. The first part deals with method of investment evaluations, risk, determination of cost of capital, the financial plan and determination of value. The second part deals with selected investment project which is evaluated based on the theory explained in the first part.