

Abstract:

This bachelor thesis is divided into two parts: the practical part and the theoretical part. The practical part consists of the translation of the book De chile, de dulce y de manteca edited by Karla Paola Vázquez from Spanish to Czech. The book was published in the 2007 by the Otras Inquisiciones publisher and was made part of the reader's collection of non-fiction texts released by the magazine Algarabía. The topic of the book is the origin of mexican dining, mexican national traditions, favourite meals and drinks and oral proverbs, sayings and history related to gastronomy. The theoretical part consists of the translation analysis of the original text that takes as the model the methodology by Christiane Nord, the method of translating, the analysis of the problems created during the process of translating and their solution and is finally concluded with the bibliography.